NOT HAPPY.

The citizens of this county (Esmeralda), says the True Picture, are in no pleasant frame of mind over the passage of a bill dividing the county, giving Lyon county the biggest half of its tax-paying area. They are justly indignant because their representatives in the legislature allowed anything like a job to be put up on them, as has evidently been the case. It is a landslide for Lyon of no insignificant value, and one which no one more fully appreciates than does N. H. A. Mason, who is the prime instigator of the whole scheme. While Governor Adams is said to have had his finger in the pie for future prestige politically, making Lyon undeniably Democrat, and had some influence in the matter, that is no reason why Esmeralda's entire delegation should allow itself to be so completely hoodwinked. The situation may be summed up as follows: Lyon county takes the bun; Hawthorne the county seat, and Candelaria gets what Burns did.

JUSTICE'S CARD.

An earnest advocate of the asylum management sends a communication to the GAZETTE on the meeting held in Carson yesterday. The gentleman is well known in Reno, and is very sincere in his belief that Dr. Dawson is not getting fair treatment. Like all other citizens he is welcome to a place for his views in the GAZETTE. The Board certainly owe it to themselves, the State and a public officer to allow the superintendent a hearing and make the charges either cause for removal or powerless to injure his reputation. If they desire to remove him without cause, that, too, is their privilege, but let them do it without awakening a suspicion among his friends and neighbors that he is not worthy of respect.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

As the streets of San Francisco are no longer lighted with gas the newspapers suggest that the Board of Supervisors give citizens a general permit to carry weapons to defend themselves from the depredations of footpads. Many people are buying pistols as it is, with the intention of doing police duty on their own account.

The impression prevails in Washington that Sheridan will not be extradited, but that the United States courts to which he will appear in case the decision of the Commissioner is against him will not recognize political offenses as crimes under the treaty.

FOREIGN TELEGRAPH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Irish Affairs.

[PARIS, March 7.]
Voltair publishes an interview with O'Kelly, member of Parliament. He stigmatized the Phoenix Park murders, but declared that Burke, as the permanent representative of the Castle Government, was to have been the sole victim. He said if the Parnell land reform bill was rejected Parnell would resign and go to America.

A Storm that Will Please the Canadian Prophet.

[HALIFAX, N. S., March 7.]
Storm signals are hoisted all along the Nova Scotia coast. There is a severe snow-storm to-night, and the wind is blowing a gale. Some fear the verification of Wiggins' prediction, but the Meteorological Department of this city consider the storm only a March blow.

Paddy Ryan Wants Another Chance at Sullivan.

New York, March 7.
The Sun says: Paddy Ryan, in a letter to Jack Stiles of this city, says he would like another chance to face Sullivan in the ring. He says he never was better in his life and his friends in Chicago would raise $2,000 provided Stiles can raise $3,000 more in New York, so that the stakes may be $10,000. Ryan feels that Sullivan can't whip him.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

A Prize Fight Near Police Headquarters.

New York, March 6.
The most desperate prize fight this city ever witnessed took place in the basement of Matt Grace's Bowery sporting house. The principals were George Full James, light weight champion, and Patrick Gallagher, a noted pugilist of Philadelphia. The men wore light gloves, that were apologies for gloves, to evade the law. The battle was for $500 and the light weight championship. Fourteen rounds were fought in 24 minutes, and the championship and money were awarded to James, as at the end of the 14th round Gallagher failed to come to time. Both men were terribly punished. In the middle of the fight the cry of police was raised, but it proved a false alarm and the men returned to the ring and finished the mill. Steve Taylor seconded James and "Fiddler Neary" handled Gallagher. Over 5,000 persons were present. Philadelphia sent a strong delegation and this city was very largely represented. The fight was within a stone's throw of police headquarters, but there were no arrests.

The World thus describes the last round of the fight: Full James was the stronger of the two, and as opportunity offered he took advantage of it to throw Gallagher over his head, completely "winding him up." The round lasted a minute. When the men retired to their corners a man in the crowd cried out "police!" A scramble for the door followed. It proved to be a false alarm, however, and when quiet was restored it was found that Gallagher had taken his departure. James, who had not left the ring, claimed the fight, which the referee awarded him.

Much Ado Over a Dead Chinaman.

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.
Ah Yu, a pagan, was buried to-day from a Christian temple. Several days ago he was set upon by three roughs and died of his injuries. The Chinese Mission interested itself and funeral services were held to-day in the Episcopal Church. There was a large gathering of Chinese and white ladies. At half past 4 everything was ready. Five Chinamen bore the body into the room. They placed the coffin on the stands prepared for it and then took their seats with other Chinese mourners. Their grief was touching and few ladies present could look upon them with dry eyes. The coffin was of black walnut; a cross bearing the name of Chang Ah Yu was placed upon it. There was also a harp surrounded by shamrocks. The body was neatly attired in a long brown blouse. Ah Yu's hands were clasped over his breast and held a little branch of immortelles. The hideous wound was not visible. Ah Yu's queue was coiled about it in such a manner as to cover all traces of the violence. The face was greatly emaciated. It told of intense suffering, and the Chinamen present could not look toward it without a fresh outbreak of grief. Dr. Tyler spoke in English first and afterwards addressed some words of consolation to the Chinamen in their own tongue.

Condemned Murderers in the Shadow of the Scaffold.

NEW YORK, March 7.
Michael McGloin, the youth who is to be hanged Friday in the Tombs Prison yard, seems contented and passes much of his time in walking up and down "Murderers' Row" conversing with Pasquale Majone, who will die with him on the same scaffold. McGloin's aunt and younger brother went to the prison early and sat by his cell door the greater part of the day. In the afternoon a very pretty girl of 18, who was to have been his wife, called to see him. She wept bitterly as she went into his cell. She came out in about ten minutes, and when the condemned man looked into his room he was agreeably surprised to find his little altar and bed-room neatly arranged and dusted. Majone does not seem to need much comfort, always laughing. He said, when Friday was mentioned: "Me no care; me got a friend. Me go uppa scaffold. Then Majone no more." McGloin still has some hope. His counsel left for Albany to-day.

Don Cameron on the Down Grade.

WASHINGTON, March 7.
Senator Don Cameron started to-day for Charleston, S. C., accompanied by Surgeon General Wales and Senator Butler. Cameron has been in poor health for several months, suffering from fistula. Wales stated that there is very little hope of his recovery. Doctors have been baffled in checking the disease, as Cameron, during paroxysms of pain, will drink champagne to deaden it, which aggravates the disease. His friends don't expect he will ever be able to resume his duties in the Senate.

The Wrong Man Killed.

HUBBARD CITY, Tex., March 7.
J. H. Land, a wealthy stock man from Wisconsin, was shot and killed by one Varrell, who had made improper advances to Land's daughter at a party.

The Levee in Danger.

HELENA, Ark., March 7.
A gale last night and to-day lashed the river into fury. The struggle to save the levee so far is successful. A message from a point four miles south says that without a hundred men the levee cannot be held another hour. A squad of 50 have just gone and more will follow quickly. The situation is extremely critical. About the only hope is in the wind calming.

Doc Rodgers' Afflictions.

Doc Rodgers and family left this morning for the home of his parents in Illinois. Poor Doc had a very hard time for several months. He was first taken with pneumonia, which left him completely broken down, and since his partial recovery from that an abscess formed back of his ear, which so diseased the skull as to render a difficult surgical operation necessary. Rodgers expressed a desire to go to his home at the East, where, should death be his only relief, he can have the attention of his mother and father. The Central Pacific railroad gave him $60 towards the purchase of tickets, and Rev. Mr. Jenvey went before the Board of County Commissioners Monday and asked for the relief of the afflicted family. The Board gave them $100, and with that they started across the continent on this morning's train.

The Harrisons.

The Boston Advertiser in speaking of the Harrisons says: In their absurdity called "Photos" they are furnishing the patrons of the Park this week with an excess of fun, that home of amusement never before ringing more constantly with loud laughter from the beginning to the end of a performance than during the antics and speech of these bright artists and their efficient support in this clever production. As the piece has been seen in this city before its general character is well known. It only remains to say that, in its present form, and with the company as now constituted, it is merrier and more musical than ever.

The Live-stock Board.

The Reno Live-stock Board is in session at the Palace to-day, and appears to have a lot of business before it. Edmondson, Slaven, Clark, Hudspeh, Hope and Brooks are present and "talk beef" with untiring volubility. If there is any absorbing question before the people at present it is, "What will beef be worth three months hence?" The Reno Board, after earnest consideration and profound deliberation, has arrived at the conclusion that if the price of beef does not go up or come down it will remain pretty near as it is now.

The Big Engine.

The big engine that went west this morning for service on the Northern Pacific weighs 53 tons. The engine and tender equipped, with a full tank of water and coal weigh 61 tons. She carries 5000 gallons of water and 5000 pounds of coal. Those used by the C. P. and S. P. are from 8 to 9 tons heavier than the Northern Pacific are ordering.

Surgeon Coming.

Dr. Freeman, of the Salt Lake Surgical and Medical Institute, who has made annual trips to this city, will be at the Depot Hotel Thursday, March 8th, fully prepared to treat all deformities of the body and limbs, eye, ear and throat, surgical and all chronic diseases. Persons suffering from any of the above diseases will do well to call on this surgeon. Consultation free.

ASYLUM MANAGEMENT

An Attempt to Oust Superintendent Dawson.

THE ABSORBING TOPIC OF CONVERSATION

An Interesting Meeting of the Board of Commissioners.

W. E. F. DEAL TO THE RESCUE

"Justice" Gives His Views of the Proceedings in the Matter.

CARSON, March 6.

Editor Gazette:—The exciting topic of the hour is the attempt on the part of the Board of Commissioners for the Insane to deprive Dr. Dawson of the superintendency of the asylum without a trial. For some days it has been generally understood that a movement was on foot to capture the coveted position, and that a storming party, led by Doctors Bishop and Bergstein and supported by Governors Adams and Laughton, would move upon the lines to-day. It is an open secret that Adams some weeks since, forgetful of his office and its high responsibilities, had sworn vengeance against a political and personal friend of the present superintendent and breathed threatnings of dire and fearful portent; also, that Laughton, in his life-struggle for the emoluments of the librarianship, had so compromised his high office in intrigue with Bishop, that his vote and influence could be depended upon by the malcontents. It was not supposed, however, that Controller Hallock would be so far forgetful of his duty to himself and the people, as to lend himself to the schemes of the plotters.

Let the following unvarnished tale be read and reflected upon by all good citizens: At the afternoon session of the Board, by request of Mr. Deal (and against the mild protest of Governor Adams) certain so-called charges against the Superintendent of the Asylum were read.

First. It appeared that D. W. Bowen, whose inspired pen splutters at the County Hospital of Washoe county, was cognizant of the fact that in July last one Winfrey, a brother of J. P. Winfrey, reached the hospital in a very bad condition, having, as brother Bowen alleges, been discharged from the insane asylum. [Just where the pertinency of this charge comes in your correspondent is unable to comprehend.]

Second. That one young Mason, a patient in the asylum, at some time in February, made his appearance, unattended, at Chamberlain's hotel, in Reno, and there received a drink. It is stated that Mason is a bad man and has "killed his man" heretofore, but by way of precaution, and that the party giving the drink did not know who he was. This monstrous accusation is signed by John Coughlin and W. R. Chamberlain.

Third. That Dr. Dawson has been known to play cards for drinks and cigars at Chase & Thyes' saloon. This great impeachment is signed by H. M. Fulmer and is supported by the name of John Bowman.

Fourth. That Asa Dawson, a brother of the Superintendent, has been seen at late hours of the night in Reno, and once under the influence of liquor. This frightful blow against the Doctor is "boosted" by G. M. Humphreys.

Fifth. There is (or was) a fifth charge, but for the life of me I cannot recollect it. I am not to blame, for the Board refused to allow copies to be taken. The last charge was in keeping with the others, however. After all the effort and the struggle, the nauseous undermining and backbiting, the contemptible lying and defaming, the result was nothing; The mountain had labored and brought forth a mouse. When the charges (?) were read, the several members of the Board glanced piteously from one to another, and with blanched faces waited helplessly. Mr. Deal at once moved to place them upon the records of the Board. Governor Adams and Controller Hallock saw no necessity for this, and so the motion was denied. Dr. Dawson demanded the privilege of taking copies, as did Mr. Deal, but the Board sternly refused. Upon motion of Hallock the charges were ignored, when with impressiveness and feeling, the Controller offered a resolution declaring the office of Superintendent vacant. This he said was done by request. (Request of Bishop and Bergstein.) Promptly Mr. Deal offered a substitute, to the effect that the management of the asylum ought not to be and would not be changed without sufficient cause. Just as promptly was the substitute voted down. Deal and Tuftly voted no. Now it was that a speech was made that should ring out all over the State. Rising in his place, Deal, in an impassioned manner, gave vent to feelings which move every just and impartial man. He denounced the methods which seemed to obtain in the Board; reviewed the history of the administration of the Nevada Asylum from the time the patients were received to the present, and clearly and forcibly showed how the present Superintendent had pursued his way through paths of doubt and uncertainty, until experience, born of earnest study and honest effort, had brought the institution to its present state of efficiency. He cited the written and printed endorsement of the Board, made two months since to the Legislature, wherein Dr. Dawson received full meed of praise; the emphatic commendation of the late Legislature in its resolution just adopted, and in scornful tones demanded a reason for this sudden movement made just as the Legislature adjourned. "Gentlemen of the Board," said he, "no one of us can live long enough to outlive the infamy which will and ought to attach to our names should we drive out a faithful and honest public servant without giving him a hearing or without just cause. I am a Democrat, but my Democracy is not of that kind. All we ask is, that Dr. Dawson be permitted to confront his accusers, to meet and answer any charges against him." This and more said this gallant gentleman whose very soul was outraged by the jobbery with which the very air reeked. Then arose George Tuftly—I wish I could give you his remarks. His honest indignation well might cost him his self-control, but he managed to state his meaning unmistakably. His ultimatum was that no man should be condemned unheard. Thanks to Messrs. Deal and Tuftly, the still small voice of conscience was heard, and the cabal of politicians failed for the present. Deal, Tuftly and Huffaker voted no. For the present, I say, because it is generally understood that Huffaker can be counted on to vote with the Governor and "tother" Governor, and so the respite is only for a season. It remains to be seen how the people and the independent press of the State will view the proceedings. More anon. JUSTICE.

A Good Appointment.

C. H. Stoddard came over from Carson last night, and leaves this evening for San Francisco. Charley will breathe the sea air until the latter part of the month, when he will return and accept the position of Commissary at the State Prison. Warden Bell has shown excellent judgment in selecting so competent a man for that position. Mr. Stoddard is one of the best known public men in this State. He has since his admission occupied many important places of trust, and has always filled them with ability. He represented Humboldt county in the Assembly in 1873. In 1874 he was Deputy Internal Revenue Collector for the district of Eastern Nevada. He has been twice elected Sergeant-at-Arms of the Assembly and once Chief Clerk of the House. The Republican party has always admitted him to their council chamber and the State Central Committee have been strengthened by his advice. The GAZETTE congratulates Mr. Stoddard upon his last appointment; also Mr. Bell in being able to obtain his services.

The "Gazette's" Wood Pile

A little wood is handy to have in the house, and it is not surprising that people who want to keep warm get it. The GAZETTE's wood pile has been visited nearly every night this Winter and as much carried away as has been burned in the office. We have said nothing about it before, thinking that warm weather would shame the thief, but in this we are mistaken, for last night's haul diminished the pile nearly one-half. Call again, neighbor, and load up your stove. Dickens is still Coroner, and you can get most anybody to pick up the stove lids, Congressional Globes and Spring poetry. It did not take long to load 15 sticks with powder and tamp it in with the leaves of the Congressional Records. To kill you, kind friend, would be murder, but if a blast from our wood pile will send you high enough into the air to keep you out of the GAZETTE's back yard for a year or two we shall think our time profitably spent.

A Train Ditched.

A Western-bound special, loaded with sheep, cattle and merchandise struck a broken rail just west of Bronco station, at 8 o'clock last evening, and went into the ditch. The engine and ten cars left the track. Dan. Wheeler had several cars of sheep in the train, and lost about 90 head. They were all killed or badly crippled. The accident delayed the East-bound overland and emigrant for several hours. The passenger from the west did not reach this station until 9 o'clock this morning.

Death at the Asylum.

Fredrick Burckhalter, who has been afflicted with apoplexy for several years and been an inmate of the Napa asylum for some time, and was removed from that institution to the asylum at this place last week, died here yesterday afternoon in an apoplectic fit. His remains were sent to Truckee, where his mother and brother reside, on last night's train. He was a son of the late Fred. Burckhalter of Truckee.

My Sweetheart.

The Minnie Palmer Company are sure to draw a large audience to-morrow night. "My Sweetheart" will be the attraction. Seats are going like hot-cakes. Engage seats early. Go and see Minnie pull on her stockings.

JOTTINGS.

Minor Occurrences in and About Town.

About 80 emigrants went East at noon to-day on the delayed train that should have arrived here early in the morning.

Sheep men think that mutton will be much higher in a few months. What will cause the raise is not apparent.

Trinity church "cottage meeting" will be held this (Wednesday) evening at Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, at 7 o'clock.

Anyone wishing the Bulletin or Examiner can have it left regularly by leaving orders with Charley Thurston, postoffice book store.

The nail heads that protrude from the sidewalks are a great nuisance. Yesterday a lady seriously injured her foot against one of them.

Waterfowl are said to be abundant down at the Sink of the Carson and among the sloughs for some distance above the mouth of the river.

Low Clark had a band of cattle come in yesterday from his range, to be fed at Mrs. Blasdel's ranch on the Meadows. There are 218 head of prime animals.

The question is now: "Who set fire to the Coats Tavern?" Some think it may be satisfactorily answered when they catch the man who fired at Merston.

Another of the big engines went west this morning for service on the Northern Pacific. It is of a different pattern from those sent down on the Southern, but its weight is about the same.

Professor Feracy's dance at Reform Club Hall last night attracted a large assemblage. There seemed to be more real enjoyment than at a ball, because all the persons present appeared to be acquainted with each other.

Indians can scent a carcass further than a buzzard can smell carrion. The red men in this vicinity were all heading for Bronco this morning to feast on the sheep killed there last night by the ditched freight train.

Mrs. M. A. Foster, the leading Carson milliner, will open a millinery establishment in Reno in a few days. Mrs. Foster is a lady of most exquisite taste, and will bring the best stock ever shown here. She came up from Francisco this morning and went on to Carson.

A large portion of the travel now coming through Reno is directed to the Southern country, along the line of the Carson & Colorado road, all the way from Hawthorne to Bishop Creek, from which point the graders are now only about ten miles distant, and going ahead at a rapid rate.

Some months ago Beemer's fine dray-mare, while playing in the yard, rolled against a splintered hoe handle, which went entirely through her flank, making a wound which it was thought would be fatal; but, to the surprise of many who are acquainted with the circumstances, the animal has recovered and is now at work, apparently as good as new.

Assistant Librarian.

The Index says: Lieutenant Governor Laughton has appointed Mrs. Fisher, sister of Capt. J. W. Haynie, Assistant Librarian. She is a very estimable lady of culture, and the appointment gives general satisfaction.
